Message from the Executive Director

At the Kenora Sexual Assault Centre, our work is grounded in a deep belief in the strength, resilience, and dignity of survivors. Each day, we are dedicated to creating a safe, supportive, and inclusive space where those impacted by sexual violence can find healing, hope, and empowerment.

Our Centre exists because no one should ever have to navigate the effects of sexual violence alone. We are here to listen, to believe, and to walk alongside survivors—whether through counseling, advocacy, education, or crisis support.

We are equally committed to building a safer and more equitable community for all. This means challenging the systems and attitudes that allow violence to persist and working in collaboration with partners, allies, and community members to create meaningful change.

As Executive Director, I am continually inspired by the courage of survivors, the dedication of our staff and volunteers, and the generosity of our community. Together, we are shaping a future where voices are heard, healing is possible, and change is within reach.

Thank you for visiting our website. If you or someone you know is in need of support, please remember—you are not alone. We are here for you.

With compassion and solidarity,

Jaye Wesley
